IMPORTANT INFO

~ Homework is due at the beginning of each class. If it is not turned in during the time given, it will be late.

- 1 school day late = 25% reduction
- 2 school days late = 50% reduction
- 3 school days late = zero credit

★ Calculation of the reduction will be computed after the student has earned a score.

~ During a quarter of school, students are given two chances of turning in a late assignment without receiving a detention. On the third instance, the student will have earned a detention.

~ Students have the opportunity to correct EVERY homework assignment to receive FULL CREDIT BACK. Assignments can only be corrected once. The corrections must show work or an explanation of why their answer has changed.

~ Students have the opportunity to correct any test to receive HALF credit back. Test corrections must be done within 3 days of the grade being submitted. (I will announce test correction deadlines in class). In order to earn the privilege of correcting a test, the student must show they have completed the review. It is the students responsibility to set up a time with me.

Please take the time to sit down with your parents or guardians and read through this document. If you have any questions, please address them before signing and returning.

Parents/guardians, please read

~ If you have any questions or concerns regarding your child's grade or behavior in my class, please call or email me immediately.

~ I am also always open to face-to-face meetings, because many times, our concerns can be lost in translation in emails.

~ My main goal as a teacher is to help your students become confident learners and also to teach them important life skills.
